

Open letter to the Emperor of Japan, Naruhito

Your Majesty,

We are a group of Australian and Asian people who are fond of Japan travel, food, and culture. We are writing to you in respect and kindness.

For the good sake of the entire world population, we urge you to stop the release of wastewater from the Fukushima nuclear power plant as it will contaminate the beautiful ocean and fishing grounds.

Imagine your children and all Japanese people will suffer the long-term effects and illness from nuclear waste as well as the future generations. How would you feel for the children and people in your country?

With nowadays hi-tech development, we believe the Japanese authorities would have the wisdom to release the nuclear wastewater in a safer and more responsible way.

It is a critical decision as your Majesty could act and save Japan and the world with a clean environment.

We don't want anything that will damage our ocean.

We want to travel to Japan again and enjoy the delicate food and pure water there. But this will depend on it being a safe and clean environment without the fear of nuclear waste.

Please act now and you can make it a difference.

Yours sincerely,

Australian Asian Group
